develop a second income

What you will learn

In this 2-day intensive workshop you will learn from a seasoned professional wedding photographer how to plan, prepare, shoot and produce the final product. The overriding experience, apart from learning about wedding photography will be the fun, enjoyment, enthusiasm and humour that Terry brings to the 2 days.

Day 1 will consist of considering what equipment you will take on the wedding, from the very basics to the more advanced requirements, in other words, "what's in the bag".

Before lunch you will learn how to control and balance ambient light with your camera flash, with practical demonstrations of flash compensation and control of ambient light. You will then have the opportunity to work with a bride producing portfolio shots with Terry demonstrating how to create those signature shots with off camera flash and radio triggers.

After lunch you will be taken to the local church where you will put some of what you have learnt into practice, working in low light conditions, manipulating your ISO, shutter speed and aperture in conjunction with off-camera flash and flash modifiers.

After several hours in the church where you will also be introduced to the requirements and restrictions that normally come with the territory when working inside the church you will be introduced to the "Anatomy of a wedding photographer". Terry will take you through the wedding process from pre-wedding planning and preparation through the complete day, illustrated with plenty of real life anecdotes he has accumulated over the years.
